14. Our notes vs. the official rules

Your notes match the official Modern American Canasta rules (Canasta League of America, canastaleague.org) on the opening thresholds, card values, canasta and 3s scoring, the 7s and Aces penalties, the deuce and joker canasta values, and every special-hand point value. These are the places that differ. The booklet follows your group's house rules, confirmed by your group.

Topic	Our group's notes	Official rules
Opening with deuces/jokers only	Allowed if the wild canasta covers the required points; otherwise a clean set is needed too	Not allowed. The opening meld needs a clean triple
Going out	Ask partner once. Final discard face down, may be a wild if it is all you have. Not with an unfinished Ace, 7 or wild canasta	No partner permission mentioned. Final discard is any card except a 3. Cannot go out with unfinished Ace, 7 or wild melds. +100 bonus
Cards kept after melding	Opening turn: only one, to discard (talon set aside). Later: two	At least one
Picking up the pack	After opening: hold a natural pair, and the pair goes on the meld with the top card. To open: hold three naturals of that rank, with the full opening proven without the top card	Use the top card right away, with a natural pair or on an existing meld. Not allowed if you already have 5+ of that rank
3s	Laid down as soon as you get them (a talon's 3s on your next turn). Final-card question open	May be held for a special hand. Never discarded
Blast Off and Dream +5 wilds	Neither needs wilds; a set of deuces or jokers may be one of the sets	Blast Off: matching wilds. Dream +5: mixed or matching wild set

The official rules also say that if you hold only Sevens, Wilds, Aces or dead cards when the discard tray is empty, you must take back melded cards (most recent first) until you have a legal discard.

Table habits that appear only in your notes: the red or black topper card on a canasta, the sideways sixth card, announcing two cards, and an unseen talon counting as neutral.

13. Questions to confirm with your group

The official rules settled most of the unclear points in the original notes. These remain open.

1. Wilds in the opening meld. The notes say the second team can use wilds when one partner melds, even without five natural cards. The official rules do not mention this. Confirm what it allows.
2. A 3 as your final card. When you go out with a 3 in hand, do its points count against you? Confirm, and confirm whether the Straight special hand costs you points if you hold a 3 and never complete it.
3. Differences from the official rules. Review chapter 14 and decide, rule by rule, whether your group follows its own notes or the official rule.

Special hands

All 14 cards, no 3s (except Straight), no discard. 2,000 to 3,500 for the 9 special hands, 8,500 for the 2 dream hands. Full list in chapter 11.

How to use this booklet

This booklet takes you from "I have never touched a Canasta card" to playing a full round. Read chapters 1 to 5 once, play a hand, then use chapters 6 to 11 as you go. Chapter 12 is a one-page cheat sheet to keep at the table.

The rules here come from notes taken during classes at the library. Where those notes match the official Modern American Canasta rules (Canasta League of America), the booklet uses them as written. Where they differ, the booklet keeps your group's version and shows the official rule beside it. All differences are summarized in chapter 14.

Look for these boxes

Tip. A friendly hint that makes the game easier.

Remember. A rule that is easy to forget and costs points.

Penalty alert. A mistake that loses points.

Differs from official rules. Your group's notes and the official rules disagree here. Both versions are shown. Decide with your group which to follow.

Check with your group. The original notes were unclear here, and the official rules did not settle it. Collected in chapter 13.

1. The game at a glance

Goal

Canasta is a card game for two partnerships (four players, partners sit across from each other). Each round, your team tries to score as many points as possible and keep the other team from scoring. The first team to reach 8,500 points wins the game.

What is a canasta?

A canasta is a set of 7 or more cards of the same number laid out together on the table. It is the main way to score. There are two kinds:

- Clean (natural) canasta: seven or more cards of one number with no wild cards. Worth 500 points.
- Dirty (mixed) canasta: seven or more cards of one number that include wild cards (five natural cards plus up to two wilds). Worth 300 points.

The big picture of a round

1. Deal 13 cards to each player.
2. Take turns: draw, make melds (lay down sets), and discard.
3. Make your team's opening meld (the first time you lay cards down). It must reach a minimum point total.
4. Build more sets and complete canastas.
5. The round ends when a player "goes out" (needs two canastas and partner's permission) or the draw pile runs out.
6. Count points. Play more rounds until a team reaches 8,500.

12. One-page cheat sheet

Your turn

1. Lay down 3s and replace them. 2. Draw. 3. Meld. 4. Discard (never a 3 or a wild).

Opening meld

Team score	Points needed	Must include
Under 3,000	125	A clean set of 3+
3,000 to 4,999	155	A clean set of 3+
5,000+	180	A clean set of 3+

Exception: deuces/jokers only, if points are enough. Talon: 4 cards if first to open, 3 if second, only if 9+ cards are left in the draw pile.

Canastas

Type	Cards	Top card	Points
Clean	7 natural	Red	+500
Dirty	5 natural + up to 2 wild	Black	+300
Deuces only	7+ deuces	-	+3,000
4 jokers + three 2s	7	-	+2,500
Deuces + 1 to 3 jokers	7+	-	+2,000
Natural 7s or Aces	7 natural	Red	+2,500

Penalties

Mistake	Cost
Deuce/joker canasta not closed	-2,000
7s not closed	-2,500
Clean Aces not closed	-2,500
3 or more 7s/Aces in hand	-1,500 + card value
No canastas	Everything counts negative

3s

1 = 100, 2 = 300, 3 = 500, 4 = 1,000. Two canastas: you gain them. One canasta: neutral. None: you lose them.

Going out

Two canastas + partner says yes (ask once) + discard last card face down. First team to 8,500 wins.

The 2 dream hands

Hand	Shape	What you need	Points
Dream hand +4	5-5 + 4 wilds	Two sets of five of a kind, plus 4 matching wilds	8,500
Dream hand +5	5-5-4	Two sets of five and one set of four, any cards. Wilds are allowed but not required. A set of four can be four jokers or four deuces; a set of five cannot be jokers	8,500

Check with your group. A second printout lists Miami Pairs at 3,000, while the reference card and the official rules say 2,500. This booklet follows 2,500.

Tip. Check your starting 13 cards for a pattern. Many pairs, or several groups of three or four, can point to a special hand. A hand with a lot of wilds may be a better fit for a dream hand.

When and how to declare one (official rule)

The reference card shows the patterns and points. The official rules add how a special hand is played:

- When: before your team's opening meld, or on your first turn after your partner opens. After that, the chance is gone for the round.
- Last card: your 14th card must come from the draw pile. You cannot pick up the pack to complete a special hand.
- Dead cards may be used in a special hand.
- Result: you lay down your whole hand and the round ends at once. You score the flat points only, with no card count, no going-out bonus and no penalty for cards in your partner's hand. The other team scores its own hand normally.
- Dream hands (8,500) equal the winning score, so they win the game outright.

Differs from official rules. House rule (our group): Blast Off and Dream hand +5 do not need wilds (a set of deuces or jokers may be one of the sets). Dream hand +4 needs four matching wilds. Reference card / official: Blast Off allows matching wilds, and Dream hand +5 uses five wilds that may be mixed or matching. All other patterns and points agree.

2. Cards and key words

The deck

Use two standard decks plus four jokers (108 cards).

Wild cards

All 2s (called "deuces") and all jokers are wild. A wild card can stand in for any natural card in a set. Wild cards are powerful, but there are many limits on when you can use them and when you can throw them away.

The special 3s

3s are bonus cards. You never meld them in sets. Whenever you get one, lay it sideways at the top of your play area at the start of your turn, then draw a replacement. House habit: lay 3s down as soon as you get them, whether from the deal, a draw, or a talon (lay a talon's 3s down on your next turn, right after you pick the talon up). The one exception is holding a 3 for a Straight special hand. 3s earn points if your team has two canastas, and cost points if you have none (see chapter 8).

Glossary

Word	Meaning
Meld	Laying down cards from your hand onto the table as a set.
Opening (initial) meld	Your team's first meld of the round. It must reach 125, 155 or 180 points (chapter 5).
Set	Three or more cards of the same number laid together.
Natural / clean	A real card of that number, not a wild.
Dirty	A set or canasta that includes wild cards.
Canasta	A set of 7 or more cards. Clean = 500 points, dirty = 300.
Closing a canasta	Completing the set to 7 cards. You mark it by putting a red card on top (clean) or a black card on top (dirty).
Dead card / dead number	A number that already has a canasta. It cannot be melded again.
Draw pile (stock)	The face-down pile you draw from.
Turn card	The card turned sideways in the draw pile during setup. It sits on top of the bottom 8 cards. Talons are only given while 9 or more cards remain (chapter 5).

Pack / discard tray	The face-up pile where discards go.
Going out	Ending the round by finishing your hand with a final discard.
Deuce	A 2 (wild card).

11. Special hands (Modern American Canasta)

Modern American Canasta adds 9 special hands and 2 dream hands. Each one uses all 14 cards in your hand (your 13 plus the card you draw) in a particular pattern, with no discard. A special hand pays a big bonus, from 2,000 up to 8,500 points.

Rules that apply to every special hand

- No 3s are allowed, except in the Straight (which must use a 3).
- All 14 cards must be used. You cannot discard.
- A "shape" such as 4,3,3,2,2 means the sizes of your groups of same-number cards. Add them up and you get 14.
- "Matching wilds" are wild cards that match each other (for example, two 2s or two jokers).

The 9 special hands

Hand	Shape	What you need	Points
Pairs with 1 wild	7 pairs	7 pairs, including deuces OR jokers (one kind of wild), and Aces and 7s	2,000
Pairs without wilds	7 pairs	7 pairs, no wilds	2,500
Miami pairs	7 pairs	7 pairs including jokers, deuces, Aces and 7s	2,500
Zip code	4-3-3-2-2	No wilds, OR with 1 or more matching wilds in any position (anything goes)	2,500
Straight	A to K + joker	One of every rank, Ace through King, plus a joker. Must use a 3	3,000
Garbage	4-4-3-3	Two sets of four and two sets of three. No wilds	3,000
Blast off	5-4-3-2	No wilds needed. A set may be made of matching wilds (for example four jokers or four deuces)	3,000
Triples	4-4-4 + 2 wilds	Three sets of four of a kind, plus a pair of matching wilds	3,500
Quads	3-3-3-3 + 2 wilds	Four sets of three of a kind, plus a pair of matching wilds	3,500

Round total	2,215

3. Setting up and dealing

1. Pick the first dealer. Each player draws a card. Highest card deals. After that, the deal passes clockwise each round.
2. Shuffle the cards.
3. Cut. The player to the dealer's right cuts the deck in half and keeps the top half.
4. Make the draw pile. From the bottom of that half, count off 8 cards and place them face down. Turn the ninth card sideways on top of them. This sideways card is the turn card. The rest of that half joins the draw pile.
5. Deal 13 cards to each player, one at a time, clockwise. The dealer deals while the cutter builds the draw pile.
6. Play starts and continues clockwise.

4. Taking a turn

Every turn follows the same steps.

1. Lay down any 3s. Place each 3 sideways at the top of your play area. Draw one card from the draw pile for each 3 to replace it.
2. Draw one card from the draw pile.
3. Meld if you want to and are able to (chapters 5 and 6).
4. Discard one card face up onto the discard tray. Your turn ends.

Discard rules

- You cannot discard a 3 (whether a 3 may be the final card when going out is still to be confirmed, see chapter 13).
- You cannot discard a wild card unless it is your very last card, or all you have left are wild cards.
- The first card into an empty tray cannot be a 7, an Ace or a wild card. This also applies any time the tray is empty (for example, after someone picks up the pack).
- Dead cards (numbers that already have a canasta) also cannot go into an empty tray.

Differs from official rules. House rule (our group): lay 3s down as soon as you get them (a talon's 3s on your next turn); a 3 as your final card is still to be confirmed. Official: you may hold 3s while going for a special hand, and a 3 is never discarded, even when going out.

Hand size when you open and after

On the turn you open, you may use as many of your cards as you need for the opening meld. You only need one card left to discard, because the talon you take (set aside, face down) becomes your hand on your next turn. This does not work when you open by picking up the pack, because there is no talon then. On later turns, keep two cards in hand at the end of your turn: one to hold and one to discard next time. If you have two cards or fewer, tell your partner.

Differs from official rules. House rule (our group): when you open, you only need one card to discard (the talon is set aside for your next turn); after that, keep two cards. Official Modern American Canasta: keep at least one card (the one you discard), unless you go out or have just picked up the pack.

Tip. Say "I have two" out loud every time. It helps your partner decide whether to ask you to go out.

10. A sample round

Illustrative only. The numbers below use the standard card values from chapter 5 to show how a round flows.

Setup

Our team has 0 points, so the opening meld needs 125. After your draw you hold 14 cards: K K K, Q Q Q, J J J, a joker, and a 4, 5, 7 and 9.

Your turn

1. No 3s to lay down. You draw a card.
2. You check the opening meld: three Ks (30) + three Qs (30) + three Js (30) + a joker added to the Js (50) = 140 points. There are clean sets, and only one wild is used. That beats 125.
3. You lay those ten cards down. This is your opening meld.
4. You discard the 4. You now hold 5, 7 and 9, which is more than the two-card minimum.
5. As the first team to open, you take a 4-card talon and place it face down. Use it next turn.

Later in the round

1. Your partner adds natural Ks to your King set until it has seven. They close it with a red card on top: a clean canasta.
2. Later your team builds a dirty canasta of Qs (five natural plus two wilds) and closes it with a black card.
3. With two canastas, a player asks their partner: "May I go out?" Partner says yes. The player melds all but one card and discards it face down.

Scoring (illustrative)

Item	Points
Clean canasta	+500
Dirty canasta	+300
Two 3s	+300
Cards on the table (example total)	+1,200
Cards left in the other partner's hand	-85

9. Strategy tips for new players

1. Count 7s and Aces every turn. Keep no more than two in hand and discard extras once your team has opened.
2. Get a canasta on the table early. One canasta turns the 3s neutral. Two canastas also let you go out.
3. Never end a round with zero canastas. Everything turns negative.
4. Do not open with deuces or jokers unless you can close them. An open deuce meld is -2,000.
5. Save your wilds. Use natural cards first. Wilds are most valuable on a set that already has five naturals.
6. Watch the draw pile. Talons are only given while 9 or more cards remain, so opening early earns you extra cards.
7. Track dead numbers. Once a number has a canasta, you can neither meld it nor safely discard it into an empty tray.
8. Talk to your partner. Announce when you hold two cards. Ask to go out only when you are sure, since you get just one ask.
9. Discard safely. Prefer low-value cards and numbers the other team has not melded.
10. Hold pairs. Two natural cards of the same number let you pick up the pack when the top card matches.

5. Your opening meld

Before your team can lay down anything else, one partner must make the opening meld. It has to meet two tests.

Test 1: enough points

The cards you lay down must add up to a minimum. The minimum goes up as your team's overall score grows:

Your team's total score	Opening meld needs
Under 3,000	125 points
3,000 to 4,999	155 points
5,000 and up	180 points

Card values for meld points

These are the point values used when adding up a meld:

Card	Points
Joker	50
2 (deuce) and Ace	20
K, Q, J, 10, 9, 8	10
7, 6, 5, 4	5

Test 2: a clean set (unless a wild canasta covers the points)

Your opening meld must include at least one set of three or more natural cards (no wilds). The partner who opens may add up to two wild cards to a set of natural cards. This is the only time wilds can go onto a set before it has five natural cards. Your opening meld may use as few or as many cards as you need to reach the points.

The exception: a wild canasta (deuces and jokers)

You may open with a meld made only of deuces and/or jokers. House rule: if that wild canasta by itself covers the points you need (125, 155 or 180), you do not need a clean set. If it does not cover the points, your opening must also include a clean set. See chapter 7 for how to score and close these.

Differs from official rules. House rule (our group): a wild canasta can open without a clean set if it covers the required points; otherwise a clean set is needed. Official Modern American Canasta: the opening meld must include a clean triple of natural cards, so a wilds-only opening is not allowed.

After you open: the talon

- The first team to open takes 4 cards (a talon) from the draw pile and places them face down in front of the player who opened. Use them on your next turn.
- The second team to open takes 3 cards.
- Only early in the round: you get a talon only if at least 9 cards are left in the draw pile when your team opens. With 8 or fewer, no talon is given.
- If you are picking up the pack as part of your opening meld, you do not get a talon.

Check with your group. The notes say the second team can use wilds "at the time one partner melds" even if they have fewer than five natural cards. Confirm exactly what that exception allows.

Deuce/joker canastas	See chapter 7

The 3s rule

- Two canastas at round end: your 3s add to your score.
- One canasta: your 3s are neutral (they do not count).
- No canastas: your 3s count against you.
- Any 3s still in your hand at the end count against you, scored as if they were on the table.

No canastas at all

Penalty alert. If your team has no canastas when the round ends, every card in your hand and on the table counts as negative points.

Calculating your round score

- Team that went out: add up canasta bonuses, 3s, and the value of all melded cards. Subtract the value of cards left in your hand.
- Other team: add up the value of your melded cards and canasta bonuses, then subtract the value of cards left in your hand. Then apply any 3, 7 and Ace penalties.
- If the other team goes out and you still have an untouched talon, those cards are neutral. They do not count against you.

8. Ending the round and scoring

How a round ends

- A player goes out, or
- the draw pile runs out.

How to go out

You can go out only if all three are true:

1. Your team has completed two canastas.
2. You can meld all but one card and discard your last card.
3. Your partner agrees.

- Ask your partner first. You may ask only once per round.
- You cannot go out by melding your whole hand. You must have a card left to discard.
- The final discard goes face down. Your last card may be a wild card if that is all you have left. A 3 as the final card is on the Check with your group list (chapter 13).
- You cannot go out while your team has an unfinished meld of 7s, clean Aces or deuces and jokers (a wild canasta).

Differs from official rules. House rule (our group): always ask your partner first, once per round (a no means you cannot ask again). The last discard is face down and may be a wild if it is all you have. You cannot go out with an unfinished Ace, 7 or wild canasta. Official: partner permission is not mentioned. The last discard can be any card except a 3. You cannot go out with an unfinished meld of Aces, 7s or wilds on the table. The team that goes out gets a +100 bonus.

What counts toward your score

Item	Points
Clean canasta	+500
Dirty canasta	+300
Natural canasta of 7s or Aces	+2,500
Cards on the table (including cards in canastas)	Face value (see chapter 5)
One red or black 3	100
Two 3s	300
Three 3s	500
Four 3s	1,000

6. After you have opened

Adding to melds

- Any new number you lay down must be a set of three or more natural cards (no wilds).
- You may add wild cards to a set only once it has five natural cards. You can add up to two wilds to that set, making a seven-card dirty canasta.
- Natural cards of the same number can always be added to a set you have already melded.

Closing a canasta

When a set reaches seven cards, it is a canasta. Close it by squaring up the pile and placing a card on top:

- Clean canasta: put a red card on top.
- Dirty canasta: put a black card on top.

Move the closed canasta to the top of your play area, next to your 3s.

Tip. When a set has six cards, turn the sixth card sideways at the bottom of the pile. Everyone can then see you need just one more card.

Special numbers: 7s and Aces

These two numbers are high risk.

- 7s must always be played clean. If the round ends and your 7s are not closed into a canasta, that is -2,500 points.
- Aces can be played clean or dirty. But if you meld them clean, they must stay clean and must be closed before the round ends or you lose 2,500 points.
- Keeping two or fewer 7s and Aces in your hand at the end of the round is safe. Holding three or more costs -1,500 points, plus their face value.
- A natural canasta of 7s or Aces is worth +2,500 points.

Penalty alert. Do not start 7s or clean Aces unless you are confident you can finish them. Discard extra 7s and Aces once your team has opened.

Picking up the pack

On your turn, you may take the whole discard pile. You cannot pick up the pack if the top card is a wild.

If your team has already opened

You must hold two natural cards of the same number as the top card. The top card and your two cards all go onto that number's meld (or start it). If your team already has five or more cards of that number on the table you cannot pick up the pack, because you would end with an eighth card.

If your team has not opened (opening with the pack)

You may pick up the pack to open if you hold three natural cards of the top card's number and your opening meld already meets all the requirements without the pack: the full points (125, 155 or 180) and a clean set. Lay out your opening meld first. Then use the top card as an extra card in the meld of that number. For example, with three 5s as your clean set and a 5 on the pack, the 5 becomes the fourth card of that set. The top card does not count toward the points. You get no talon in this case, and you must discard onto an empty tray (so no Ace, 7, wild or dead card).

> Differs from official rules. House rule (our group): you must hold a natural pair (after opening) or three naturals (to open) that match the top card, and the pair goes onto the meld with it. Official Modern American Canasta: take the top card and use it at once, either with two matching naturals from your hand or by adding it to an existing meld. Then the rest of the pack is yours. You cannot take the pack if your team already has five or more cards in that rank.

7. Deuce and joker melds

A meld made only of deuces and/or jokers is a high-reward, high-risk play. The rules come from the January 21 and 28 class notes.

When you can meld them

- As your opening meld (if the points reach 125, 155 or 180), or
- Any time after your opening meld.

Scoring for deuce and joker canastas

Canasta of	Points
Only deuces (7 or more)	+3,000
All four jokers plus three 2s	+2,500
Deuces with one to three jokers	+2,000
Not closed when the round ends	-2,000

Close them first

Once you start a deuce and/or joker meld, you cannot add wilds to any other meld until that wild canasta is complete. Close it first. Closing it is worth at least +2,000, and leaving it open costs -2,000.

> Penalty alert. An unfinished deuce or joker meld at the end of the round is a -2,000 swing. Do not open with it unless you can complete it.
